The following book is about a place in the future where there is twelve districts who are poor and work day and night but with one in power which is Panem being the richest out of all of them, and every year they choose two people to fight to the death in an arena with one survivor but this year one volunteered while the other did not which is unexpected since all that people want is to not get chosen to fight, but this one 16-year-old girl called Katniss could not stand the fact of her sister getting chosen so she volunteers. In the arena where she and this other boy called Peeta are up to fight against the other districts, even each other with one person standing, but something unexpected occurs.

I enjoyed the details of the book as in the side characters along with the details of the setting but also how the characters had strong personalities, and the book made me want to read more each time I flipped a page since something always happened at the end of each chapter. I also liked the fact that there's a movie where I can watch it , but overall it was also well-written.

I would very much recommend this book since it's a well written book and an exciting book. I think anybody who enjoys romance, action, or dystopian themes would enjoy the setting and the events that happen in the book since every chapter something unexpected happens leaving you wanting to read more and more.
